

This is a prototype of 18IrePL.

The rules can be found on <https://www.overleaf.com/read/cfynrhxfzrdm> (they are linked in the corresponding Weather Forecast item [No. 78] as well). Printing them might not be the best idea since they are often updated.

There are two types of green cities: with double and single station. I haven't settled on one yet... Most of the test games were with one or another, however I'm starting to think that the sweet point may be one single station and two double station for each type of green city. That's how I prepared the track tiles. Additional tiles are provided in case I change my mind or you want to test another variant of green cities.

There are additional rain cards as well, since the train roster likely will change, but I don't know how yet.

If you want to send me a message with a question or your impressions, you can reach me on BGG, 18xx Slack (Galatolol on both) or via e-mail:
galatolol@protonmail.com.

Thank you for giving the game a try. If you don't like it or don't want to test it anymore and you know someone who wants to try it, please give this copy to them.

This is a prototype of 18IrePL.

The rules can be found on <https://www.overleaf.com/read/cfynrhxfzrdm> (they are linked in the corresponding Weather Forecast item [No. 78] as well). Printing them might not be the best idea since they are often updated.

There are two types of green cities: with double and single station. I haven't settled on one yet... Most of the test games were with one or another, however I'm starting to think that the sweet point may be one single station and two double station for each type of green city. That's how I prepared the track tiles. Additional tiles are provided in case I change my mind or you want to test another variant of green cities.

There are additional rain cards as well, since the train roster likely will change, but I don't know how yet.

If you want to send me a message with a question or your impressions, you can reach me on BGG, 18xx Slack (Galatolol on both) or via e-mail:
galatolol@protonmail.com.

Thank you for giving the game a try. If you don't like it or don't want to test it anymore and you know someone who wants to try it, please give this copy to them.